Market Review

- Bond yields dropped by two to 10 basis points (bps; 0.02-0.10%) in June, leading to positive total returns for investors.
- Headline inflation came in higher last May at 3.9% y/y versus April's 3.8% y/y. However, the print was below estimates and at the lower end of the 3.7% y/y to 4.5% y/y forecast of the Bangko Sentral ng Pilipinas (BSP). Inflation is expected to move lower after a reduction in rice import tariffs was approved, with the BSP lowering its 2024 forecast from 3.5% y/y to 3.3% y/y.
- Despite this, the BSP kept its policy rate steady during its June meeting though their post meeting communication took a more dovish stance. BSP Governor Remolona indicated that they are ready to cut rates twice this year, with the first one potentially coming ahead of the Fed's. He also pointed out that inflation is affected by 0.03% for every percent that the Philippine Peso depreciates against the U.S. Dollar.
- The BSP has indicated that it will likely cut rates in August, regardless of the timing of U.S. Federal Reserve's own cut. Local government bond yields will likely move lower for as long as inflation remains within BSP expectations.
