Market Review

- The Philippine Stock Exchange Index (PSEI) had a relatively flat December. It closed above the 6,000 level, specifically at 6,052.9. Year on Year, the PSEI saw a decline of 7.29%.
- Foreign funds were again sellers in December amounting to $210 million. 2025 was the eight straight year of foreign outflows. Foreign ownership is already at 18.7%, an all-time low.
- For the FI market, PHP government bond rose by around 15-20 basis points for maturities 10Y and shorter. Maturities 10Y and longer outperformed with yields higher by 2-5 basis points. Overall, PHP Fixed Income returns were negative as prices fell.
- The main driver of the move in bond yields was positioning into year-end as market participants looked to take profit and derisk amid prospective supply and global developments.
- With the PSEI holding above 6,000, the market may try to make a run at the resistance of 6,400. However, there remains a lack of catalysts so trading activity might remain muted.
- FI markets will continue to be bullish with growth and inflation still below government targets. Given the sharp rally post-GDP print, global developments will drive local bonds.
